

Success does not come wrapped in red tape.

JULIE OLTHOFF knows that student success is achieved in the classroom with teachers and students; not in government with politicians and bureaucrats.

That's why Julie Olthoff has been a leader in making sure our teachers and students have the tools and resources they need to achieve success. Under Julie Olthoff's leadership, Indiana has increased education funding by $474 million, contributing to the largest investment in education funding in state history, a $1 billion increase since 2010 with 98% going directly to public schools.

Even with these significant increases in funding, totaling over half of the entire Indiana state budget, our schools are still spending too much on administration and bureaucratic red tape, instead of directing that money to our teachers and students. In fact, Indiana schools ranked last in the nation in the percentage of K-12 staff that are classroom teachers. Source: 2013 National Center for Education Statistics

Julie Olthoff has led the charge to empower teachers to manage their classrooms by voting to reduce the red tape and bureaucratic overreach.

- ✓ Repealed the burdensome ISTEP standardized test.
- ✓ Simplified and streamlined Indiana education laws to allow schools to operate more effectively and empower teachers to manage their classrooms.

Julie Olthoff is confident that when government gets out of the way, our teachers and students will succeed. Julie is committed to making sure our education dollars make it to the front lines in the battle for student success and achievement.
